

In a Heart Attack, Minutes Matter.

Get help fast.
Time is Muscle.

A heart attack can be stopped in its tracks if treatment is given soon enough after symptoms begin.

Don't be afraid to call 911 and ask to be taken to a certified STEMI Center like Glendale Adventist Medical Center.

If you don't know the cause of your symptoms, assume it's a heart attack. Play it safe and get medical help.

Most Common Warning Signs of a Heart Attack

- Mid-chest discomfort/pressure
- Neck/jaw/throat discomfort or pressure
- Shortness of breath
- Nausea/vomiting
- Sweating
- Arm/shoulder/hand discomfort or pressure
- Heartburn

Remember

Women's symptoms may differ and can include:

- Upper back or shoulder pain
- Unusual fatigue
- Sleep disturbances

Risk Factors for Heart Attack

- High cholesterol
- Obesity
- Smoking
- Lack of exercise
- Stress
- Diabetes
- High blood pressure

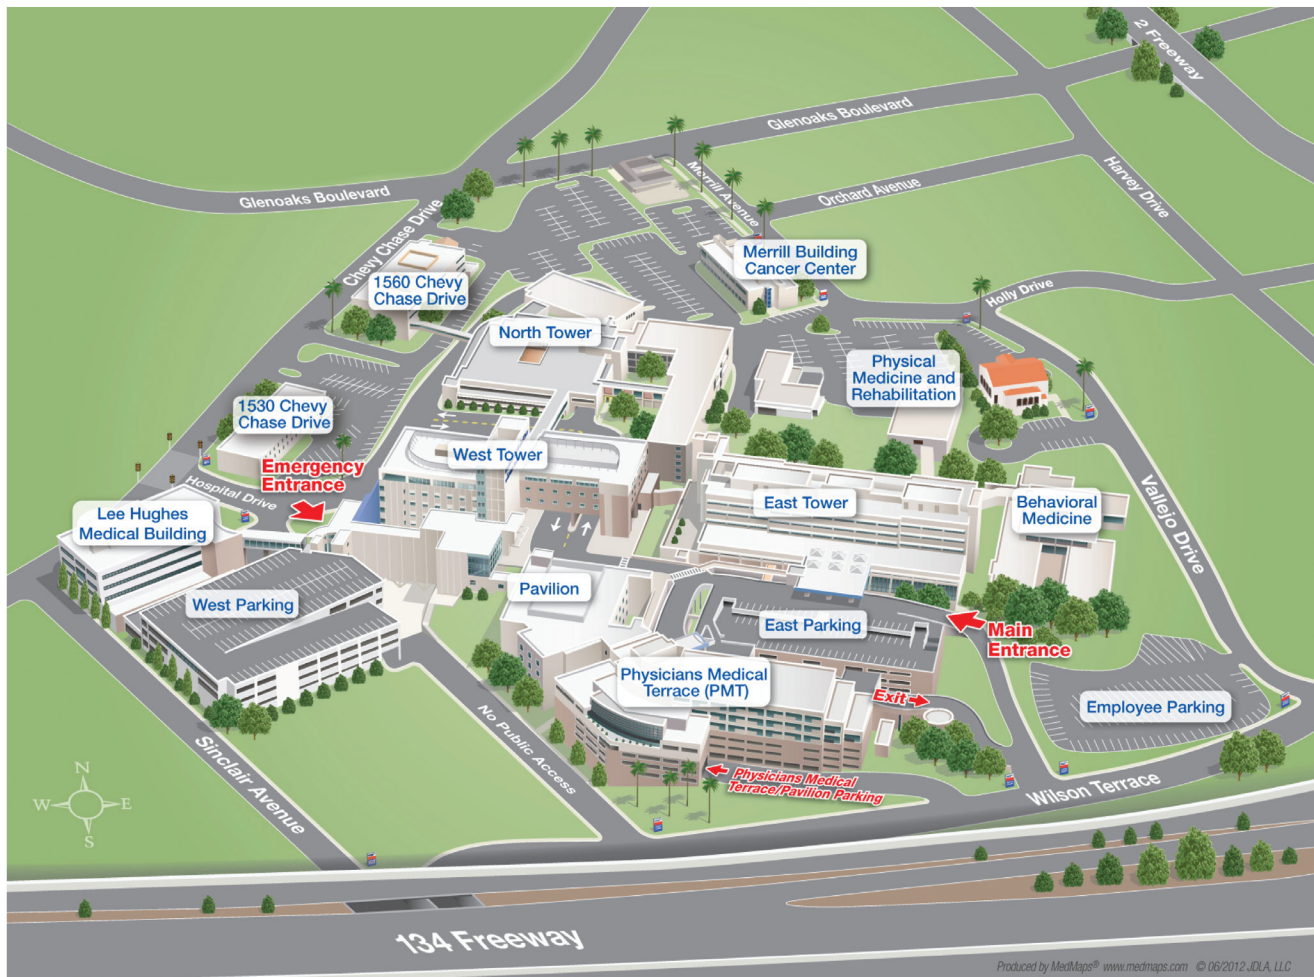

Tips for Heart Attack Prevention

1. Get regular health screenings to check for high cholesterol and high blood pressure. If you develop high blood pressure, make sure you follow up with your doctor and keep it under control.
2. Eat a heart healthy diet that is low in fat and cholesterol but high in fiber.
3. Don't smoke or use tobacco products. If you smoke, consider quitting to reduce your risk of heart disease.
4. Maintain a healthy weight. Excess weight can lead to high blood pressure, high cholesterol, and diabetes that can increase your risk of heart disease.
5. Stay active. Consider an exercise program. Even walking each day can lower your risk.
6. Take time to relax everyday. Stress can increase the workload on your heart.
